

Forklift Safety for Pedestrians

The National Safety Council issued a Fact Sheet concerning pedestrian safety around power industrial trucks and what employers and lift truck operators should do to protect pedestrians. It also includes how pedestrians can protect themselves, such as:

- Never step in front of a lift truck or piece of powered equipment.
- Stop and look when approaching a corner before proceeding – look both ways.
- Walk on the right side of aisles.
- Keep well away from the lift truck and other motorized equipment to avoid getting pinned by the swing.
- Never walk or stand under the mast or load of a lift truck.
- Know that forks on a parked lift truck pose a tripping hazard. Raised forks pose a strike-against or spearing hazard.
- Be aware of stacking procedures. You could be struck by falling loads on both sides of the racking.
- Know that a backing lift truck poses a hazard.

To view the fact sheet and learn more about pedestrian safety around power industrial trucks, visit: https://www.nsc.org/Portals/0/Documents/WorkplaceTrainingDocuments/OSHA_PIT_Peds.pdf

Heating Your Home Efficiently

Maintaining your HVAC system can save you money on utility bills. Try these tips from energystar.gov:

- Check your furnace's air filter once a month, especially during the heavy-use months of winter. A dirty filter slows air flow, making the system work harder which wastes energy. If it's dirty, either clean or replace it. At a minimum, clean or replace it every three months.
- Sealing and insulating air ducts, especially those in your attic or crawlspace, helps keep the heat where you want it and can improve your HVAC system's efficiency by as much as 10%.
- Consider a yearly professional tune-up of your HVAC system, and if you need to replace your system, consider an ENERGY STAR certified unit. Make sure that your new energy-efficient unit is properly installed for maximum savings.

Happy Holidays

During the Holiday Season more than ever, our thoughts turn gratefully to all of our customers who have made ChemStation's progress possible.

We would like to take this opportunity to say thank you and to wish you the very best for the New Year!

Positive thinking will let you do everything better than negative thinking will.
— Zig Ziglar

Work joyfully and peacefully, knowing that right thoughts and right efforts inevitably bring about right results.
— James Allen

Practice doesn't make perfect. Practice makes permanence.
— Eric Thomas

BY THE NUMBERS

Gallons of soap delivered:

317,637,275

since 1984

Empty drums not in landfills:

5,775,223

since 1984

